Our newest Project Local artist, Linda Peterson, reflects: "I paint a wide variety of images, always have. I saturate color and light in all, literally as I see. I find it difficult to tone color down, but the mental benefits are amazing....My world is a blast of colors, hues, tints, shadows, and intensities in everything."

This Project Local exhibition is brought to you in partnership with the Lake George Arts Project. Linda's work will be on display until the end of February.

Painting in watercolor can seem intimidating for many artists, but it doesn't have to be. Striking a balance between controlling the medium while allowing the paint to do what it wants to do is key to creating watercolor paintings you can be happy with. Watercolor artist Diane Swanson will demonstrate a few techniques and tricks to help participants work towards that balance in a relaxed easy setting. Participants will practice watercolor techniques to learn some of the magic of the medium, then will apply these techniques in creating their own watercolor landscape by the natural beauty of our region. Diane will work with each artist through the process, with tips on how to handle composition, color and brushwork. February's workshop will be inspired by a woodland stream in winter. Workshop is for all artistic abilities.

All supplies and instruction provided. Thanks to the generosity of our donors, this event is free. Please call the library at (518) 668-2528 to register.
