Devin Lail

Artist's Statement

I am inspired by the small things, particularly the mushroom season in the Adirondack mountains. The colors, shapes and small creatures that accompany the mushrooms on the forest floor are captivating. One day while hiking I stumbled upon a pair of slugs eating a lace pattern into a mushroom cap and I asked myself "are these small lives really as simple as I thought?" Wanting to express my connection with nature I did what came naturally...I picked up my paintbrush and attempted to capture my curiosity into these small intricate worlds

Lynn Shanks Artist's Statement

As a painter of landscapes and portraits, my work is rooted in a confident use of color and an expressive technique that celebrates the physicality of paint. I blend representational imagery with an emotive, textured style—visible brushstrokes and vibrant hues serve not only to capture the subject, but to stir a deeper emotional response. Themes of purity, innocence, and vulnerability are central to my practice, often contrasted with an underlying sense of quiet strength. Whether I'm painting a figure or a natural scene, I aim to evoke the beauty, fragility, and resilience present in both humanity and the environment. At its core, my work is a reminder: our liberty and our natural world are not guaranteed. They are precious, and they must be protected.

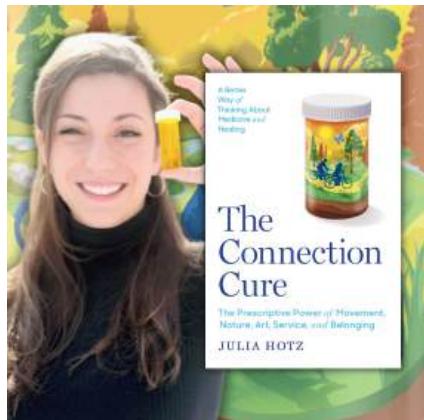

Lynn lives and works in Queensbury, NY.

JANUARY VIRTUAL AUTHOR TALKS

Presented in partnership with the Library Speakers Consortium

The Connection Cure: The Prescriptive Power of Movement, Nature, Art, Service, and Belonging combines diligent science reporting, moving patient success stories, and surprising self-discovery to help us discover the lasting and life-changing power of social prescribing. Traditionally, when we get sick, health care professionals ask, "What's the matter with you?" But around the world, teams of doctors, nurses, therapists, and social workers have started to flip the script, asking "What matters to you?" Tuesday January 20th at 2 PM ET via digital live-stream.

We are thrilled to welcome back Liz Moore—one of the first guests to appear in the Library Speakers Consortium series—to discuss her latest work, The God of the Woods, an instant New York Times bestseller and one of NPR's 2024 "Books We Love" highlights. Early morning, August 1975: a camp counselor discovers Barbara Van Laar has gone missing. Barbara is the daughter of the family that owns the summer camp and employs most of the region's residents. And this isn't the first time a Van Laar child has disappeared. As a panicked search begins, a thrilling drama unfolds. Wednesday, January 28th, at 7 PM ET via digital live-stream.
